

Jonathan W. Davids, MD, CCFP, FCFP, CCBOM, MRO, MME, Dip. Sport Med.,
CD Occupational Medicine Physician | Medical Review Officer
Corporate Medical Director | DriverCheck Inc.

With more than 25 years of practice in Occupational Medicine, Dr. Davids started his career as a Medical Officer with the Canadian Armed Forces, subsequently serving as Medical Advisor and Director for organizations in retail, manufacturing and nuclear energy sectors as well as police services, healthcare and education.

Dr. Davids has extensive experience working with unionized workforces in Occupational Health & Safety. He has acted as an advisor to Human Resources, Labour Relations and Legal, and has testified in Labour arbitrations and Human Rights tribunals. He has managed and advised corporate clients on Public Health concerns that impact business continuity, employees, and customers, conducted and advised on Corporate Executive Medicals and Wellness initiatives, and has provided Travel Medicine consultations for business travel for corporate clients. He is an experienced leader in determination of worker fitness-for-duty, managing medical surveillance programs, disability case management and workplace accommodation.

Over the past two years, Dr. Davids has provided consulting services to clients across the country on keeping workplaces safe during COVID-19, providing guidance and developing policies on how to operationalize the mitigating and suppressive public health measures to keep workers and workplaces safe. He has been involved in developing electronic medical screening protocols for clearing workers attending work and advising employers on how to manage workplaces and individual workers in the presence of positive COVID-19 tests.

As Corporate Medical Director of DriverCheck Inc, he has been directly involved in conducting COVID-19 testing and has overseen the more than 400,000 COVID-19 lab-based, rapid on-site PCR, and antigen tests for employers across Alberta, British Columbia and Ontario including testing done for migrant farm works, truckers and the general public on behalf of Ontario Health.

He has published guidance documents and conducted educational webinars for employers on COVID-19 and on how to prepare for returning to work after lockdowns. He has also presented to the Occupational and Environmental Medicine Association of Canada to advise and inform Occupational Medicine physicians on COVID-19 testing strategies.

Dr. Davids is a certified Medical Review Officer (MRO) with the American Association of Medical Review Officers (AAMRO), a Designated Physician Marine Medical Examiner (MME) with Transport Canada, and the Corporate Medical Director with DriverCheck Inc.

Dr. Davids received his MD from McMaster University and is Board certified in Family Practice and Occupational Medicine with subspecialties in Sport and Exercise Medicine, and Diving & Hyperbaric Medicine.